

Sharon Hargrove

Born on March 20, 1951, and raised in Perryton, Texas with a population of 7,000, she met Mike in junior high school where they both attended, dated through high school and married during college. Both Hargroves graduated college from Northwestern State College, in Alva, Oklahoma, with teaching degrees.

In 37 years of baseball starting in 1972 with the Texas Rangers, the Hargroves and their five children made 100 moves between 23 different cities! Each time, the family settled into new schools, neighborhoods, and communities. They were married for 25 years before they ever lived under the same roof for one year!

Sharon authored a book about raising a family in baseball called "Safe at Home," and while with the Indians, she wrote a column for Indians Ink called, "Sharon Views." She also did a weekly radio show with WHBC in Canton called, "The Real Managers Minute."

Sharon is on the advisory board of Our Lady of the Wayside, Make a Wish Foundation, Providence House, Coats for Kids, ALS & Cystic Fibrosis. The Hargroves currently reside in Richfield, Ohio, and spends the winters in Tucson, Arizona.
